October 2018

October is Oak Awareness Month

Oaktober, the City's annual fall celebration of trees, is part of a statewide celebration of the mighty oak. On October 6, the City has arranged a tree walk, an opportunity to talk with the city forester, and activities for children. Participants can also help plant a grove of serviceberries, a project initiated by a 13-year-old volunteer during the summer. If you can help share information or participate in the activities for any amount of time during the event, please email here.

When: October 6, 1-4 p.m.

Where: The Ecology Center, 2024 McCormick Blvd.
